Reported Speech

A bird with a simple mind!

One day, Tall Bird asked Fat Bird what she was doing. Fat Bird replied that she was starting her novelist career. TB then asked how it was going. FB said that it was slow and that she only knew how to hunt and peck. They laughed. At the end, TB scoffed that he hoped that she were a better writer than a comedian.

A complaining bird!

One day, Fat Bird wanted to make a complaint to the Daily Newspaper. Taking a breath, she said non-stop that she was calling to complain about the miserable review that their half witted critic made about her book, 'Dreams of a Night and a Dragon'. She added that she demanded a note, and that they took back all the lies in that review, such as saying that she had changed her story to fit in fashionable labels. The voice in the phone gave an apology and said that there was a really annoying bird chirping and that he couldn't hear a thing
